LAWRENCE AS NEW
DEAL'S "FALSTAFF"*Gives Him No. 1 Rating As
The "Professional Funny
Man" of Democrats*RAPS THE STRIKES*Claims Lawrence Has But A
Mock Concern for The
Laboring Man

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—G. Mason Owlett, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and Republican National Committeeman for Pennsylvania, today ridiculed Democratic State Chairman David Lawrence as the "Falstaff" of the New Deal whose political soliloquies on the labor question give him No. 1 rating as the "professional funny man of the Democratic Party."

"Mr. Lawrence's mock concern for Labor is not measured in terms of what the New Deal can do for the working man so much as what the Fourth Termers can gain by their shameless mesalliance with the Sidney Hillmans, Earl Browders and Phil Murrays of the million dollar slush funds," Mr. Owlett said.

"The Democratic State Chairman's mawkish sentimentality toward the men of labor is not borne out by the tragic record of Pennsylvania New Dealers when they were in power. Mr. Lawrence and his fellow illusionists used the familiar Democratic trick of giving the working men everything on paper not because of any great philanthropic love for him but because his vote was the thing that counted in their drive for absolute authority. Actually, the labor laws enacted by the Democratic-controlled State Legislature turned the labor movement into a seething caldron of confusion, unrest and volcanic class hatreds.

"An incessant wave of strikes, steeped in violence and bloodshed, proved the hopeless inadequacy and demoralizing offshoots of the New Deal approach to this vital issue. And now, with impudent daring, Mr. Lawrence would have us believe that his political party is the great friend and savior of labor.

"In the coming campaign, the Republican Party will present in detail the steps taken by the Republican administration and the Republican Legislature in Pennsylvania to promote the interests of labor and a better relationship between employer and employee. This will be far more substantial than Mr. Lawrence's sketchy presentation which we suspect he made with tongue-in-cheek.

"It should be clear that Mr. Lawrence does not speak for the millions of conscientious, hard-working, patriotic American workers who have performed a miracle of production to fabricate the implements of victory for our armed forces. Mr. Lawrence is nothing more than the drooling spokesman for that great muscle man of labor, Sidney Hillman.

"It is men like Hillman, with their million dollar bargaining funds, who seek to corrupt this government of ours and use the Fourth Term as a golden staircase to a private chancellery in the White House.

"It is men like Hillman who try to belaud the real purpose of the

President of Paterson
Paper Co. Dies; Age 61

Funeral services for Charles Henry Cashmore, president of the Paterson Parchment Paper Company, of Bristol, who died in New York on Friday after a heart attack, will be held at two o'clock this afternoon at 40 W. 58th street, New York. He was 61.

Mr. Cashmore, who lived at 23 Crestmont ave., Torresdale, also was president of the Paterson Pacific Parchment Company, San Francisco, and president of the General Container Corp., of New York. He also was just recently elected director of the Bristol Trust Company.

Born in New Britain, Conn., on April 11, 1883, Mr. Cashmore graduated from New York University in 1909 and had been associated with the Paterson Co. for the last 25 years, serving as president since 1937.

Surviving are his wife, Rachel, two married daughters, Mrs. Harry Bonner and Mrs. Rolf Wulfsberg, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Sunburn, of New Britain, Conn. Burial will be in the Beechwood Cemetery, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Warwick P. T. A. Elects Officers For The Year

JAMISON, May 29.—Election and installation of officers featured the final meeting of the season of the Warwick Parent-Teacher Association in the consolidated school building, here, last week.

Zachary T. Wobensmith, 2nd, was elected president to succeed Mrs. Samuel L. Elkins. Other officers elected are as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Warren Atkinson; secretary, Mrs. Carl Moon, and treasurer, Mrs. Richard Dyer. Mr. Wobensmith gave a short talk following his installation.

Referring as president, Mrs. Elkins announced that $200 had been raised by the members of the association, and this will be turned over to the school board, members of which will take charge of the installation of playground equipment during the Summer.

At the close of the business session Mrs. Elkins gave a talk, "Traveling Through the West," during which she gave a description of points of interest in that part of the country.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS*Activities of Interest To All
In The Various Communities*GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Evidence that pupils and teachers of the Doylestown schools must work was convincingly shown at the Spring exhibit of the activities of the grade and high school students.

By means of drawings and models, the exhibit covered a wide range of activities, extending from the neatly printed columns of figures, "up to 100," and written "books" of the first graders to the studies made by the high school students in biology and physiology.

Instead of the former method of displaying carefully selected pieces of work done during the year by the best students in a class, the exhibit was based on "projects" and all the students took part in developing those projects.

One of the most outstanding examples of such development was the project on China of the 3B class. In addition to drawings showing various phases of Chinese life, the students prepared a model

Prisoner of War Sends Message To His Mother

PERKASIE, May 29.—A welcome message, although it was brief, was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gable. The message was from their son, Tech. Sgt. Robert Gable, a prisoner of war in Germany.

The message said: "Am a prisoner of war. Am not hurt. Don't worry. I'm fine. Red Cross wonderful. Please give my regards to everybody and don't worry. Love, Bob."

The mother is positive that the message was in the handwriting of her son who was reported missing in action when his bomber failed to return from a mission over Germany in March.

Sgt. Gable was a radio operator on a bomber. A brother, Cpl. Howard Gable, is now somewhere in North Ireland. A letter from him this week says: "I am feeling fine and get excellent food."

HOMAGE IS PAID TO THE MOTHER OF GOD*Procession Occurs at St.
Thomas Aquinas Church,
Croydon*CHILDREN TAKE PART

CROYDON, May 29.—The grounds of St. Thomas Aquinas Church yesterday resounded to childish voices paying homage to the patron of the month of May, "The Mother of God." The procession started at 2:30 p. m. down the tree shaded walk, to the lily pool, and thence into the church where the main altar was a mass of pink roses, pink and white peonies and white snapdragons and ferns. First in line were the boys and girls who had received the Holy Eucharist for the first time at the eight o'clock mass.

The girls wore white veils of net with lace inserts. Boys of the grammar grades wore blue ties. The

Catholic Daughters Have A Communion Breakfast

Fifty members of Catholic Daughters of America attended eight o'clock Mass at St. Mark's Catholic Church, yesterday, and partook of Holy Communion. After the service they went to the K. of C. home, where they had breakfast. The menu was served by a committee from the Catholic Daughters, with Mrs. Marvel Durham as chairman. The tables were decorated with American flags, and favors were small baskets in the form of a hat in the Court colors, purple and gold. These were filled with candy.

Miss Julia McFadden, grand regent, welcomed the guests. Miss Marie Stone, Philadelphia, district deputy, made a few remarks. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Veronica Kostka and Mrs. Marie Haeffle. They were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Tryon.

'43 AND '44 CLASSES INVITED

Members of the Class of 1943, as well as those of the Class of 1944, Bristol High School, are invited to attend the dance which the Mothers' Association will conduct in the high school auditorium this evening. Faculty and Mothers' Association members will also attend.

Shoulder of The Highway

CHALFONT, May 29.—An 18-year-old student of West Chester State Teachers' College was struck and killed by a hit-run motorist last night in view of her father.

The victim was Elizabeth Helsel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chester A. Helsel. Her father is a chiropractor. The accident occurred on Route 152 as Miss Helsel rode her bicycle along the shoulder of a road in front of her home here.

The girl was returning to her home shortly before nine o'clock after visiting friends on an adjoining farm when, as she neared the house, the car bore down on her.

Dr. Helsel was at a window watching his daughter when suddenly the automobile, which he said was traveling at a high rate of speed around a curve, struck the girl.

She was hurled more than 25 feet into a ditch at the side of the road. The car, without slackening speed, disappeared.

Dr. Helsel and a passing motorist, Fred Sachs, Jr., Philadelphia, who was driving behind the hit-run car, ran to the girl and took her to Elm Terrace Hospital, Lansdale. She was dead on arrival.

THE PETRUCCIO FUNERAL

Funeral for Nicholas Petruccio, who died in Trenton, N. J., Friday, will be held on Wednesday at nine a. m. from the home of his brother, John Petruccio, Bristol Pike, Wheatshat. Solemn Requiem Mass will be said in St. Ann's R. C. Church at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mark's Cemetery will be in charge of Galzerano, funeral director.

RED CROSS GROUP
WILL WORK TOMORROW*Surgical Dressing Unit Appeals For Volunteer Workers*WORKERS ARE NEEDED

By Ann Hawkes Hutton
(Publicity Chairman, Bristol Branch Red Cross)

There is a vital service which women in the community can perform to do their share of work on the home front for D Day.

Hundreds of gauze squares lie idle among the surgical dressing materials of the American Red Cross at the Community House, here. All they need is simple handwork to be converted into the finished surgical sponges which are so necessary in the care of the wounded.

The folding boards, now used, greatly simplify the work and make it easy for anyone, even without any previous manual skill or experience.

Fleetwings Workers
Give 214 Pints of Blood

More than 280 employees of Fleetwings, Division of Kaiser Cargo, Inc., volunteered to donate blood on Saturday when the Red Cross mobile unit visited Harriman Hospital.

Two of the donors on this occasion became members of the "Gallon Club," they having donated a pint of blood on eight occasions. These are Thomas Ryan and Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr.

Unable to care for the full number of volunteers, due to limited quantity of receptacles, 214 pints of blood were received from a group of 254 tested.

The Canteen Unit of Bristol Branch of the Red Cross provided beverages to the donors, and a large number of Red Cross workers were present to aid in details of the blood donations.

Those on the home front were urged to do all within their power to help those on the battle front win this war and to so work and plan that those who are on the battle-front will not have made their sacrifices in vain. This was the admonition of C. Harold Saitt, Past Commander of the American Legion of Mercer County, New Jersey, when he spoke at the annual memorial exercises held at the Legion plot between Bristol and St. Mark's cemeteries yesterday.

It was a Memorial Day program given two days in advance so as not to interfere with production of those things needed in the war effort.

Homage was paid to the deceased veterans of all wars and emphasis was placed upon the responsibility of those on the home front so that those on the fighting-front might receive the support necessary to victory.

Saitt, an active Legionnaire, was introduced as possibly "State Commander for New Jersey in the near future," by Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., implored those who are at home to give their all and do their all to back up those who are fighting the battles.

Candlesticks Dedicated
At Church in Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, May 29.—Two candlesticks were dedicated last evening at the service in Neshaminy Methodist Church, they being in honor of men from the Church and Sunday School who are serving their country.

The special service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Richard R. Gay.

As part of the dedicatory service, the pastor read the names appearing on the church honor roll, the 22 men being as follows: John F. Becker, Harry Beck, Aldridge Everitt, Wallace Davis, Kimbel Faust, Charles S. Headley, Wilson M. Hibbs, Sydney Buckman, Elwood W. Buck, Jr., Walter A. Frickett, Harry Cooper, Albert B. Tomlinson, Edwin H. Webster, Harold Winder, James E. Halk, J. Horace Cox, Harold D. Miller, W. Wendell Woolman, Robert J. McCarthy, Henry U. Miller, Franklin H. Everitt, George W. Wood.

The program also included: Prelude, Miss Clara L. Illick; hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong To Save;" sermon, "Christ and the Free Spirit," the Rev. Mr. Gay; and special anthems by the choir.

The candlesticks are gifts of the church and Sunday school.

CHILD MAKES LONG TRIP

YOUNG WOMAN AND MAN KILLED AND TWO OTHERS INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE AS THEY WALK ALONG ROAD LEADING TO THE RIVER BRIDGE*Survivors of Accident Resting at Their Homes

The two survivors of the tragic accident in which two were killed early yesterday morning on the Burlington-Bristol bridge roadway or Route 713, have returned to their homes. Both Miss Harriet Jones, Knights Road, Torresdale, and Edward Markusic, 430 Radcliffe street, were fortunate in not being more seriously injured.

Seated in the accident ward of the Harriman Hospital Miss Jones told coherently what she remembered of the accident. She related how she and Miss Di Vincenzo, a co-worker at the Rohm & Haas chemical plant, had finished work at midnight and then gone to the social club house of the company where employees of the firm find relaxation. Miss Jones left the hospital yesterday morning.

She said there were "several pieces of music" when questioned if there was an orchestra to furnish music for the dancing which she had previously stated was the attraction at the club house.

Miss Jones suffered abrasions of the left leg above the knee. She spoke calmly but of course was somewhat nervous after passing through such an experience.

"We were walking along the road in couples," she said. When a car hit us, Claire was tossed over the fence and I was thrown to the road as were the two fellows. "I spoke to one of the fellows but he did not answer and then a car came along."

Miss Jones was not at first informed of the two fatalities and although she had seen Miss Di Vincenzo removed from the ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad apparently did not sense the seriousness of her friend's condition.

When informed of the death of her co-workers Miss Jones was unnerfed but bore up bravely under the strain.

All Four Were Returning from Rohm & Haas Social Club
After Completing Work on Shift at Midnight at Chemical Plant Here — Man Injured is Treated at Wagner Hospital.

A young woman and a man were killed early yesterday morning in the first fatal accident in Bucks County in 1944. Another man and a woman were injured. Those fatally hurt were both residents of Bristol and all four were employees of Rohm & Haas Company. The car which struck the four pedestrians was driven by a Bristol man.

The dead:
Claire Di Vincenzo, 19, 210 Cedar street;
Alphonso Walukas, 23, 534 Bath street. Home address, 719 Wood Court, South Fork, Pa.

Injured:

Edward Markusic, 19, 430 Radcliffe street. Treated at the Wagner Hospital for abrasions of the head, arms and legs. He left the hospital yesterday.

The four were walking along the roadway which leads to the approach of the Burlington-Bristol bridge. They were walking in the direction of the Bristol highway or Route 13 when struck by a car driven by Bruno R. Nonini, 341 Jefferson avenue.

Nonini told police that he did not see the four until only a few feet away. Another car, he said, was approaching him and he had his attention centered on it, and just as it passed, the four pedestrians loomed up in front of him.

All four were employed at Rohm & Haas and had been working on the four to 12 o'clock (midnight) shift. After finishing their work they went to the Rohm & Haas Social Club located on the road where the accident occurred. They left the dance which was held at the club house at about one o'clock and walked in the direction of the Route 13.

Miss Di Vincenzo was accompanied by Markusic, while Miss Jones was walking with Walukas. Both couples were walking with traffic and were struck from the rear, one of each couple being instantly killed, both walking on the left of their companion.

Miss Di Vincenzo sustained a compound fracture of the skull, and fracture of the upper right arm. She was taken to the Harriman Hospital in the ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Walukas had a compound fracture of the skull, both legs were broken, left arm broken and neck broken. He and Markusic were taken to the Wagner Hospital by Allen Barr, Wilson avenue. Barr was accompanied by Vanuxem Morris.

Miss Jones was taken to the Harriman Hospital in the Bristol police car by Sergeant Perry and Officers Bartle and Della.

Nonini was driving without a license, his having been suspended or revoked three years ago.

Pvt. Jesse Bartle, Garden street, and Miss Kathryn Crudo, Penn and Cedar streets, were riding with Nonini. Bartle suffered abrasions of the right hand. They were en route from Burlington.

Nonini was driving a Ford coupe.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS*American-Chinese Forces Advance

Kandy, Ceylon.—A communique from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters reported today that American-Chinese forces penetrated into the southern part of Myitkyina, in northern Burma.

A Chungking radio report heard yesterday said Sino-American forces of Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell had reached the southern end of the Japanese stronghold of Myitkyina in an advance of 1,000 yards. Another group had stabbled toward the southeast side of the city.

Bombers Attack Four Bridges in France and Belgium

London.—Strong forces of bombers of the Ninth U. S. Air Force today attacked four bridges in northern France and Belgium, including one crossing the Meuse at Liege Val Benoit, and an airfield at Archet, north of Paris. The German radio claimed 60 American planes, including 55 four-engined bombers, had been shot down in fierce fighting over the Reich, and Nazi radio warnings indicated another possible attack on Berlin.

American Troops Within Mile of Valmontone

Naples.—American troops lunged forward today to within almost a mile of Valmontone, key defense bastion on the German-held Rome line, after the Allied Fifth Army virtually annihilated three Nazi divisions of possibly 45,000 troops.

In a desperate attempt to save his forces facing Eighth Army troops to the southeast from encirclement, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring threw in additional reserves.

Radio France at Algiers said it had been officially announced that British troops had occupied Aprilia, also known as Carroceto. Aprilia is a rail junction on the line from Anzio to Rome, about 12 miles northeast of Anzio. Another broadcast said that Allied forces cut the Anzio-Albano road two miles north of Aprilia and thus reached a point only 15 miles from Rome.

American and British troops of the Fifth Army scored substantial advances southwest of Velletri, Rome line strongpoint eight and a half miles southwest of Valmontone.

COMMAND STATION

"Somewhere in England," May 29.—Lt. Frank C. Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Yoder, of Poquessing avenue, Andalusia, Pa., is now overseas and has participated in a course designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and soldiering in an active Theater of War.

At one of the Air Service Command stations known as Control Depots, Lt. Yoder was carefully processed by classification experts who made certain that he was well-fitted for the job assigned to him. Security training, personal hygiene, a talk by a Special Service Officer informing him of facilities for healthful recreation, and a lecture by the Chaplain are all in turn part of the G. I.'s preparation for his overseas duty.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes take off to smash the Nazi war machine.

Before entering the Army, he was employed as a wood worker by the N. K. Freas Sons.

MONDAY, MAY 29, 1944

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day is a day of memories and from those memories America draws strength for the hard tasks of war. America is not essentially a remembering nation, coddling the past, but it does have an abiding gratitude for those who, in national crises of the past, offered everything to their country, not counting cost.

That gratitude is a guarantee of citizen morale today and evidence of the capacity of each generation to subordinate personal considerations to the welfare of the group.

How splendidly America has responded to every crisis. In the two wars with Britain America was on the defensive, hanging with resolution to a slender thread of hope which finally materialized triumphantly. The war with Mexico was an offensive masterpiece and proved the young nation's rising power.

The Civil War plunged every section into a fiery crucible from which it emerged chastened and unified. The few blows required to subdue effete Spain established America as a world power and the First World War ratified that ranking emphatically, with young Americans concededly the top-notch combatants of them all.

With every call to arms America answers enthusiastically and performs courageously and effectively. And as the past holds mighty deeds of America and its individual citizens, so the present is producing feats of equal valor to treasure as stones in the temple of victory that is being reared.

NO MERGER NOW

At the conclusion of one of the hearings on creating a single department of defense, Representative Woodrum of Virginia gave welcome assurance that the project to merge the Army and Navy will not be recommended during the war.

Said Representative Woodrum: "There is not and never has been any idea on the part of the committee to recommend any change or reorganization now in the middle of the war that would interfere with the work of the armed services."

The House committee on post-war military policy is, of course, not a legislative committee, but there are those, both in and out of Congress, who would push an immediate merger of the armed services without due regard for the deteriorating effect on the war effort. It is well that this effort should be squelched.

Now is not the time to attempt a merger of the two services, even if there were substantial agreement between them, which is far from the case. There are impressive arguments on both sides which deserve mature consideration and possible future action. There is nothing urgent about the matter now except the desire of the War Department, to see the merger accomplished while that department is at an absolute peak of its strength.

When the war is ended the Navy, with its two-ocean fleet, will again be the nation's first line of defense, which is one of the principal reasons for naval opposition to a merger now.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Mar. 22, 1883. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The report of the condition of the Farmers National Bank at the close of business on the 15th inst., shows loans and discounts, $263,770.25; U. S. bonds, $179,657.02; due from approved reserve agents, and other national banks and bankers, $93,921.75; individual deposits, $325,441.09; and due banks and bankers, $36,021.47.

About 106 workmen on the railroad, Irishmen and Italians, struck for $1.50 per day, on Tuesday. They were paid off yesterday morning.

The Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company ask that $2,500 worth of business in two years after the opening of an office here will be guaranteed them. Nearly this amount has been subscribed. The firms that have responded by subscriptions of $100 and over are D. Landreth & Sons, Rogers Brothers, Grundy Brothers & Campion, Joshua Peirce & Co., Wilson & Penmore, Swain Brothers and H. Mortwitz. The towns now connected by the wires of this company are Philadelphia, Camden, Atlantic City, Trenton, Bordentown, Chester, Media, Wilmington, Woodbury and Gloucester. In Philadelphia there are about 4,000 business houses connected by this company.

The Philadelphia Conference in session at Lancaster has adjourned. The appointments in this vicinity are as follows: Bristol, Rev. H. E. Gilroy; Neshaminy and Bensalem, Rev. F. A. Gilbert; Emille and Fallsington, Rev. M. H. Sisty; Langhorne and Scottsville, Rev. F. B. Harvey; Newtown, Rev. G. W. North; Tullytown, Rev. E. B. Callen.

The Rogers Brothers received a verdict of $10,970 in their favor in the trial last week against the railroad company. One other suit was settled by the payment of $1,200, making a total of $11,270 awarded them for the land taken.

girls of the lower grades were attired in white with shirred pink satin bands on their heads. The girls of the next higher grades wore large pink and blue rosettes in their hair, and the larger girls wore bands with two large bows, pink or blue in color. Then came the boys of the graduating class wearing white trousers, dark coats, and red carnation buttonholes. They were attended by two small boys as pages, attired in white suits, red bow ties and red socks, and carrying nosegays of red snapdragons and baby breath. Then in single file were the girl graduates, wearing white embroidered marquisette gowns. On their heads rested halos of white net, with small rosebuds. Seven in number, they carried bouquets of snapdragons and baby breath. The maid of honor, Geraldine Bandyke, was crowned as the other graduates, wearing a net veil and attended by four small girls. She carried the Queen's crown on a satin pillow. The small attendants wore dresses of white net, made on shepherdess lines with pink or blue foundations. Each carried a nosegay. Following was the May Queen, Joanna Knight, robed with a cloak of blue taffeta, and carrying a sheaf of white snapdragons from which hung a shower of pale blue and white streamers. She was also attended by four tots, garbed like those attending the maid of honor. The altar boys preceded the Rev. Fr. Diamond, pastor of the church, carrying the Monstrance.

As the procession entered the church, strains of the hymn, "On this day O Beautiful Mother," resounded. Once seated "Hail Queen of Heaven" was sung. The girl graduates filed singly down the main aisle and preceded to the chancel railing where a recitation dedicated to the Blessed Mother was given. The Queen presented the crown to the Rev. Diamond, who in turn laid it at the feet of the Statue which was surrounded with palms and flowers. Each girl placed her nosegay at the chancel railing during which time the children sang "Hail, Mother Dear." The boys and their attendants then proceeded to the railing where "O Eucharistic King" was recited. Each boy placed his nosegay in the huge "Y" at the foot of the main altar, "O Sacred Heart Forever Close" was then sung.

For his text the Rev. Fr. Diamond chose the words from "Hear, Sweet Mother, Hear the Weary." He dwelt upon the early life of the Infant Jesus, who as part of the Holy Family of Nazareth, assisted His mother and St. Joseph in the

"Are we giving our blood to the Red Cross blood bank so that it will aid those in combat who need it?"

"When they return, will we be able to look them straight in the eye and say 'I did all that I could?'"

The speaker blamed the pacifists at the end of World War I for America discharging her soldiers and sailors; dismantling the forts; sinking the battleships and placing trust in treaties.

He cautioned that we must now be on our guard against theorists and that we must be prepared to keep the peace and he advocated a modified form of military training.

Concluding his address, the past commander said: "We must do everything in our power to work and finance this war and we must donate our blood to the Red Cross."

"We must prepare the way so that those who are fighting this war will suffer the least possible penalties for their sacrifices."

"We must do all that is necessary and pay all that is necessary for national security."

"We must work with other high-minded nations for peace, and war must be banished for ever."

Red Cross Group Will Work Tomorrow

for this Red Cross work as the Southeastern Chapter, of which Bristol is a branch, has been asked to double its quota. The request is now for 700,000 dressings each month. To do its share Bristol must make at least 2,000 each week.

There is now on hand more than enough material to assure this output. All that is needed is sufficient number of workers, new ones, to help the older "regulars," who have faithfully been carrying on the work since the unit was organized three years ago this June.

They have the satisfaction of knowing that today, on the fighting fronts in Italy, the surgical dressings which they have made are being used for the wounded. Word of appreciation for their use there has been received by the Southeastern Chapter of Red Cross.

Every mother, wife, sweetheart or sister of every fighting man must feel a certain satisfaction from this knowledge—that surgical aids made by women right here in Bristol are this very day aiding wounded fighting men in Italy. Surely relatives will welcome an opportunity to help in such a direct and tangible way.

The Community House on Dorchester street is open every Tuesday and Wednesday from 10 a. m. to four p. m. Workers may take sandwiches, and tea or cold drinks are served. The unit also works on Tuesday evenings from 7.30 to 9.30. Everyone over the age of 16 will be welcomed. White uniforms are not essential for the work.

Simple, light, wash dresses will suffice. Mrs. Franklin Wallin, Chairman of Surgical Dressings, and Mrs. Sidney Longbottom, co-chairman, are always present to welcome and help newcomers.

The unit plans to work on D Day whenever that day may be and on Decoration Day tomorrow, as well.

"Let us dedicate this Decoration day to doing something for D Day," comments one member of the group.

"We can't think of a better way of spending Memorial Day," says Mrs. Franklin Wallin.

Not can we. What better way to honor the memory of those who have given their lives for our country. What better way to help those who may on this very Memorial Day be in need of surgical aids!

Coroner of Bucks County J. Alfred Rigby was summoned, and the body of Walukas was removed to the morgue of Robert C. Kuehl, while the body of Miss Di Vincenzo was taken to the morgue of Galzerano.

Walukas resided with William E. Downing and family at 534 Bath street. He came to Bristol to work for the Rohm & Haas Company about nine months ago.

Nonini was released in $2500 bail to await the action of the Coroner, by Justice of Peace Horace A. Cooper, at Langhorne.

State Police investigating the accident were Privates Boiwka and Forestin.

Markusik who was treated at the Wagner hospital, was interviewed today at his residence here. Markusik had his head swathed in bandages and is still nervous from the ordeal through which he passed. He related how the four left the Rohm and Haas club house to return to Bristol. He said they were walking along the road when the car struck them from the rear. He could not state whether Miss Di Vincenzo was thrown over the guard rail or not. He was walking with Miss Di Vincenzo he said and was walking on the young woman's right. "The couple ahead were walking just the reverse," he said.

"We all met at the club house." Three of the four worked in one department.

Miss Di Vincenzo was the daughter of Charles C. and Lillian C. Di Vincenzo. She was a member of the Zion Lutheran Church, and graduated from the Bristol high school last June. She attended the Rider College at Trenton for three months.

In addition to the parents, one sister, Julia, who is a Navy Cadet Nurse, and will graduate in September; and one brother, Robert, survive.

labor czar by stirring up class hatreds and using the emotions of the working man to gain an ulterior goal.

"Mr. Lawrence shows an alarming tendency to echo this dangerous philosophy. Fortunately, on the basis of his record in public office, I do not believe many Pennsylvanians will be deluded by his off-key ranting."

"I believe the working man has every right to political independence and economic security. I am convinced that he can attain neither so long as he allows himself to be used as a spring board by a ratty, self-seeking labor bund dominated by Hillman and his power-drunk satellites."

"Regimented thinking of the kind prescribed by Sidney Hillman and others pledged to the Fourth Term dream is nothing but a cankerous growth on the fine skin of labor's inherent rights. If allowed to persist, the working man will discover too late that Hillman's overpowering ambition is to establish himself as the supreme ruler of all labor under a government which will tell the working man when he can work, how much he will be paid, where he can live, how and where his children shall be educated, what he can buy and what he can't buy and in general, direct his life under the regimented formula of the very dictatorships we are fighting to exterminate."

"If that happens, the American worker need never again concern himself about his right to vote. That, and all the other liberties guaranteed us by the fathers of the American Constitution, will be a dead letter. The American way of life will have been obliterated by our own blind, stupid indifference."

which was considerably damaged. The right front fender was smashed at the headlight. The glass on the right half of the windshield was knocked completely out, and the top of the car just above the windshield was dented as if one of the bodies had been thrown up against it. The glass in the left half of the windshield was splintered, as was the glass in the right door.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of roadway between the barn on the Rohm & Haas farm and the Rohm & Haas club house, between 1.15 and 1.30. Bristol police were called to the scene by the guards at the Burlington-Bristol bridge.

Jack E. Taifer, of Newtown, received a much coveted pair of pilot wings and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army. This event marked the completion of one of the most rigorous courses of training prescribed by the Army Air Forces Training Command.

Lieutenant Taifer entered the Army Air Forces last year as an Aviation Cadet and was sent to the classification center at Nashville, Tenn., where he was chosen as potential pilot material.

Lieutenant Taifer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Taifer, of Doylestown, Pa. He attended Doylestown high school.

During a special meeting of the New Hope-Solebury Future Farmers of America, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Michael Farhotnik, Doylestown R. D. 2; vice-president, Harold Blowers, New Hope; secretary, Charles Naylor, Aqueetong; treasurer, William Burd, Carversville; and auditor, Lester W. Vile, reporter, Nick Zelenevich, Jng.

Mexican Luncheon Much Enjoyed by Club Women

CHALFONT, May 29—The Chalfont Community Club ended its season with a Mexican luncheon a few days ago with covers placed for 35.

The meeting was in charge of the retiring president, Mrs. Howard A. Clymer.

The business session was followed by the exhibit of Mexican articles and an interesting talk about Mexico by Miss Ethel Beadles, home economics director in Montgomery county, who made a trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Howard Inches, who was unable to attend, sent a number of pictures, books, jewelry, baskets and curios her husband had collected while in Acapulco, Mexico. Mrs. Walter exhibited books and bags from Panama, where her daughter resides.

Miss Beadles showed a number of attractively colored slides to illustrate her talk, and explained her main purpose in making the trip to Mexico was to study the people at their arts and crafts.

O God, our Father, in deep humility we pray with sincere gratitude for those who have laid down their lives for the preservation of human liberties, for the right to life and liberty, for the privilege of free thinking and conscientious worship of the God Who has been revealed to us. May we cherish the blessings which have been purchased for us by the expenditure of human blood, and may we consecrate ourselves to the preservation of these blessings under the leadership of Thy Spirit and the guidance of Thy hand. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ST. FRANCIS TEAM WINS
THIRD STRAIGHT GAME

EDDINGTON, May 29.—Scoring nine runs in the seventh, the St. Francis Vocational School team won its third straight game in the Bristol Youth League by overwhelming the Bristol Aces, 16-1, on the St. Francis field.

By virtue of its triumph St. Francis remained in a deadlock with Franklin for first place. Franklin also won its third game yesterday, defeating Croydon Y. M. A., 27-8.

The Stanton team won its second game in the Bristol Youth League, scoring a 3-1 triumph over Rohm and Haas yesterday afternoon on the Rohm and Haas field.

The game was a hurler's match between Glenn Shelly and Joe Elmer with both boys allowing five hits.

Joan Capriotti practically won the game for the Stanton team when he singled Shelly home in the fourth and then scored the winning run with a clean steal of home.

ROHM & HAAS MEETS
FLEETWINGS TONIGHT

Rohm and Haas and Fleetwings will clash tonight in a Trenton Industrial League game on the Maple Beach field at 6:15 o'clock.

It will be the local fans' first opportunity to see Jesse Croasdale, new Rohm and Haas pitcher, in action. Last week against the league-leading Prison Officers, Croasdale pitched a no-run game but was beaten 1-0.

Either Lenny Helsler or Mike De Risi will pitch for the Wings. The Wings are in third place in the league standing with Rohm and Haas having lost five straight games.

TO PLAY POSTPONED GAME

The Voltz-Texaco-Diamond game which was postponed last Thursday night will be played Wednesday night on the Edgely diamond. Game will begin at 6:30 o'clock.

SILES VICTORS

SILES, May 29.—Siles A. C. easily broke into the win column of the Bristol Youth League triumphing over the Bristol Township nine, 5-4, here yesterday afternoon.

Wilson Graves won the game for Siles when he clouted a home run in the third with one on base and then came through with a triple in the eighth with a runner on base. Bristol Township had deadlocked the score by counting three times in the fifth.

tered the armed forces the figure "23" has played a big part in his activities. On January 23, 1940, he enlisted in the army; on February 23, 1940, left for Panama; on February 23, 1942, graduated following a course at Fort Benning, Ga., and received his commission as a second lieutenant; on January 23, 1944, left the United States for service overseas; and on the 23rd of last month he was wounded. It was then he was sent to the 23rd General Hospital in Italy, where he is recovering nicely, and has been able to write his parents to tell of his progress. Yesterday the War Department informed the Snyders that their son is improving.

The 25-year-old infantry officer, who is single, trained at Fort Benning, Ga., and at a base in Arizona, receiving his commission as a first lieutenant at the latter place. He was in Panama for 1½ years. Following his graduation from Bristol high school he was employed for a time by Manhattan Soap Co., here.

gift of the Patriotic Mothers Club of Parkland in honor of the men in the service.

The program was inclusive of: Processional hymn, "America the Beautiful"; pledge of Allegiance to the flag, lead by Soby Post Commander William A. Thomas; the national anthem; 15th Psalm; Scripture lesson, the Rev. Mr. Gay; anthem "Recessional" (Kipling) combined choirs; bidding prayer, with congregational responses, the Rev. Mr. Eastburn; hymn "O Valiant Hearts"; prayer, the Rev. Mr. Gay; sermon based on St. John 14:16, the Rev. Mr. Eastburn; offertory "O Joyful Light" selection "American Hymn" (Keller), Harmony Trumpeters; reading of names of departed comrades, Commander Thomas; sounding of taps; memorial service; recessional hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal."

Following the serving of luncheon by the Auxillary to Post members, cadets and Blue Star Mothers in the parish room of Grace Episcopal Church, a parade group marched from the intersection of Main street and Reetz avenue to Beechwood Cemetery. In line were: Cadet drum and bugle corps, Soby Post, Auxillary, Blue Star Mothers, Girl Scouts, school children, and others. A memorial service was held at the grave of Jesse W. Soby who lost his life in World War I. At the center of the cemetery the following program was then presented: Prayer, the Rev. Mr. Eastburn; address, the Rev. Mr. Gay; presentation of American Legion medals to two outstanding students of the eighth grade of Hulmeville-Middletown public school. The medals presented by George Thorpe, past commander of Soby Post, were given to Phyllis VanVossen and Ferd. Reetz, Jr.

The address by the Rev. Mr. Gay was based on the following Bible verse: "Take off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." In stating that the boys in service are fighting for principles and ideals which have been instilled in them in this free country, he reminded that there is more to life than that which meets the eye. "There is the eternal," he added.

Refreshments were served the children by the Parent-Teacher Association in the school house following the exercises.

OWLETT RIDICULES LAWRENCE AS NEW DEAL'S "FALSTAFF"

Gives Him No. 1 Rating As
The "Professional Funny
Man" of Democrats

RAPS THE STRIKES

Claims Lawrence Has But A
Mock Concern for The
Laboring Man

PHILADELPHIA, May 29—G. Mason Owlett, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and Republican National Committeeman for Pennsylvania, today ridiculed Democratic State Chairman David Lawrence as the "Falstaff" of the New Deal whose political soliloquies on the labor question give him No. 1 rating as the "professional funny man of the Democratic Party."

"Mr. Lawrence's mock concern for labor is not measured in terms of what the New Deal can do for the working man so much as what the Fourth Termers can gain by their shameless misalliance with the Sidney Hillmans, Earl Browders and Phil Murrays of the million dollar slush funds," Mr. Owlett said.

"The Democratic State Chairman's mawkish sentimentality toward the men of labor is not borne out by the tragic record of Pennsylvania New Dealers when they were in power. Mr. Lawrence and his fellow illusionists used the familiar Democratic trick of giving the working men everything on paper not because of any great philanthropic love for him but because his vote was the thing that counted in their drive for absolute authority. Actually, the labor laws enacted by the Democratic-controlled State Legislature turned the labor movement into a seething caldron of confusion, unrest and volcanic class hatreds.

"An incessant wave of strikes, steeped in violence and bloodshed, proved the hopeless inadequacy and demoralizing offshoots of the New Deal approach to this vital issue. And now, with impudent daring, Mr. Lawrence would have us believe that his political party is the great friend and savior of labor."

"In the coming campaign, the Republican Party will present in detail the steps taken by the Republican administration and the Republican Legislature in Pennsylvania to promote the interests of labor and a better relationship between employer and employee. This will be far more substantial than Mr. Lawrence's sketchy presentation which we suspect he made with tongue-in-cheek.

"It should be clear that Mr. Lawrence does not speak for the millions of conscientious, hard-working, patriotic American workers who have performed a miracle of production to fabricate the implements of victory for our armed forces. Mr. Lawrence is nothing more than the drooling spokesman for that great muscle man of labor, Sidney Hillman."

"It is men like Hillman, with their million dollar bargaining funds, who seek to corrupt this government of ours and use the Fourth Term as a golden staircase to a private chancellery in the White House."

President of Paterson Paper Co. Dies; Age 61

Funeral services for Charles Henry Cashmore, president of the Paterson Parchment Paper Company, of Bristol, who died in New York on Friday after a heart attack, will be held at two o'clock this afternoon at 40 W. 58th street, New York. He was 61.

Mr. Cashmore, who lived at 23 Crestmont ave., Torresdale, also was president of the Paterson Pacific Parchment Company, San Francisco, and president of the General Container Corp., of New York. He also was just recently elected director of the Bristol Trust Company.

Born in New Britain, Conn., on April 11, 1883, Mr. Cashmore graduated from New York University in 1909 and had been associated with the Paterson Co. for the last 25 years, serving as president since 1937.

Surviving are his wife, Rachel, two married daughters, Mrs. Harry Bonner and Mrs. Rolf Wulfsberg, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Sunburn, of New Britain, Conn. Burial will be in the Beechwood Cemetery, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Warwick P. T. A. Elects Officers For The Year

JAMISON, May 29—Election and installation of officers featured the final meeting of the season of the Warwick Parent-Teacher Association in the consolidated school building, here, last week.

Zachary T. Wobensmith, 2nd, was elected president to succeed Mrs. Samuel L. Elkins. Other officers elected are as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Warren Atkinson; secretary, Mrs. Carl Moon, and treasurer, Mrs. Richard Dyer. Mr. Wobensmith gave a short talk following his installation.

Retiring as president, Mrs. Elkins announced that $200 had been raised by the members of the association, and this will be turned over to the school board, members of which will take charge of the installation of playground equipment during the summer.

At the close of the business session Mrs. Elkins gave a talk, "Traveling Through the West," during which she gave a description of points of interest in that part of the country.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Evidence that pupils and teachers of the Doylestown schools must work was convincingly shown at the Spring exhibit of the activities of the grade and high school students.

By means of drawings and models, the exhibit covered a wide range of activities, extending from the neatly printed columns of figures, "up to 100," and written "books" of the first graders to the studies made by the high school students in biology and physiology.

Instead of the former method of displaying carefully selected pieces of work done during the year by the best students in a class, the exhibit was based on "projects" and all the students took part in developing those projects.

One of the most outstanding examples of such development was the project on China of the 3B class. In addition to drawings showing various phases of Chinese life, the students prepared a model

Prisoner of War Sends Message To His Mother

PERKASIE, May 29—A welcome message, although it was brief, was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gable. The message was from their son, Tech. Sgt. Robert Gable, a prisoner of war in Germany.

The message said: "Am a prisoner of war. Am not hurt. Don't worry. I'm fine. Red Cross wonderful. Please give my regards to everybody and don't worry. Love, Bob."

The mother is positive that the message was in the handwriting of her son who was reported missing in action when his bomber failed to return from a mission over Germany in March.

Sgt. Gable was a radio operator on a bomber. A brother, Cpl. Howard Gable, is now somewhere in North Ireland. A letter from him this week says: "I am feeling fine and get excellent food."

HOMAGE IS PAID TO THE MOTHER OF GOD

Procession Occurs at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Croydon

CHILDREN TAKE PART

CROYDON, May 29—The grounds of St. Thomas Aquinas Church yesterday resounded to childish voices paying homage to the patron of the month of May, "The Mother of God."

The procession started at 2:30 p. m. down the tree shaded walk, to the lily pool, and thence into the church where the main altar was a mass of pink roses, pink and white peonies and white snapdragons and ferns. First in line were the boys and girls who had received the Holy Eucharist for the first time at the eight o'clock mass.

The girls wore white veils of net with lace inserts. Boys of the grammar grades wore blue ties. The

Catholic Daughters Have A Communion Breakfast

Fifty members of Catholic Daughters of America attended eight o'clock Mass at St. Mark's Catholic Church, yesterday, and partook of Holy Communion. After the service they went to the K. of C. home, where they had breakfast. The menu was served by a committee from the Catholic Daughters, with Mrs. Marvel Durham as chairman. The tables were decorated with American flags, and favors were small baskets in the form of a hat in the Court colors, purple and gold. These were filled with candy.

Miss Julia McFadden, grand regent, welcomed the guests. Miss Marie Stone, Philadelphia, district deputy, made a few remarks. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Veronica Kostka and Mrs. Marie Haeffle. They were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Tryon.

GIRL STUDENT, 18, KILLED BY HIT-RUN DRIVER, ROUTE 152

Elizabeth Helsel Victim of Accident Near Home at Chalfont

FATHER A WITNESS

Girl Was Riding Bicycle On Shoulder of The Highway

CHALFONT, May 29—An 18-year-old student of West Chester State Teachers' College was struck and killed by a hit-run motorist last night in view of her father.

The victim was Elizabeth Helsel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chester A. Helsel. Her father is a chiropractor. The accident occurred on Route 152 as Miss Helsel rode her bicycle along the shoulder of a road in front of her home here.

The girl was returning to her home shortly before nine o'clock after visiting friends on an adjoining farm when, as she neared the house, the car bore down on her.

Dr. Helsel was at a window watching his daughter when suddenly the automobile, which he said was traveling at a high rate of speed around a curve, struck the girl.

She was hurled more than 25 feet into a ditch at the side of the road. The car, without slackening speed, disappeared.

Dr. Helsel and a passing motorist, Fred Sachs, Jr., Philadelphia, who was driving behind the hit-run car, ran to the girl and took her to Elm Terrace Hospital, Lansdale. She was dead on arrival.

THE PETRUCCIO FUNERAL

Wheatheat, Solemn Requiem Mass will be said in St. Ann's R. C. Church at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mark's Cemetery will be in charge of Galzerano, funeral director.

RED CROSS GROUP WILL WORK TOMORROW

Surgical Dressing Unit Appeals For Volunteer Workers

WORKERS ARE NEEDED

By Ann Hawkes Hutton
(Publicity Chairman, Bristol Branch Red Cross)

There is a vital service which women in the community can perform to do their share of work on the home front for D Day.

Hundreds of gauze squares lie idle among the surgical dressing materials of the American Red Cross at the Community House, here. All they need is simple handwork to be converted into the finished surgical sponges which are so necessary in the care of the wounded.

The folding boards, now used, greatly simplify the work and make it easy for anyone, even without any previous manual skill or experience.

Many new workers are needed

Fleetwings Workers Give 214 Pints of Blood

More than 280 employees of Fleetwings, Division of Kaiser Cargo, Inc., volunteered to donate blood on Saturday when the Red Cross mobile unit visited Harriman Hospital.

Two of the donors on this occasion became members of the "Gallon Club," they having donated a pint of blood on eight occasions. These are Thomas Ryan and Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr.

Unable to care for the full number of volunteers, due to limited quantity of receptacles, 214 pints of blood were received from a group of 254 tested.

The Canteen Unit of Bristol Branch of the Red Cross provided beverages to the donors, and a large number of Red Cross workers were present to aid in details of the blood donations.

RETURNS TO BASE

HONOR PAID TO DECEASED VETERANS

Robert Bracken Post Holds Memorial Service at Plot in Cemetery

3RD WARD RAISE FLAG

Those on the home front were urged to do all within their power to help those on the battle front win this war and to so work and plan that those who are on the battle-front will not have made their sacrifices in vain. This was the admonition of C. Harold Sadt, Past Commander of the American Legion of Mercer County, New Jersey, when he spoke at the annual memorial exercises held at the Legion plot between Bristol and St. Mark's cemeteries yesterday.

It was a Memorial Day program given two days in advance so as not to interfere with production of those things needed in the war effort. Homage was paid to the deceased veterans of all wars and emphasis was placed upon the responsibility of those on the home front so that those on the fighting front might receive the support necessary to victory.

Sadt, an active Legionnaire, was introduced as possibly "State Commander for New Jersey in the near future," by Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., implored those who are at home to give their all and do their all to back up those who are fighting the battles.

YOUNG WOMAN AND MAN KILLED AND TWO OTHERS INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE AS THEY WALK ALONG ROAD LEADING TO THE RIVER BRIDGE

Survivors of Accident Resting at Their Homes

The two survivors of the tragic accident in which two were killed early yesterday morning on the Burlington-Bristol bridge roadway or Route 713, have returned to their homes. Both Miss Harriet Jones, Knights Road, Torresdale, and Edward Markusic, 430 Radcliffe street, were fortunate in not being more seriously injured.

Seated in the accident ward of the Harriman Hospital Miss Jones told coherently what she remembered of the accident. She related how she and Miss Di Vincenzo, a co-worker at the Rohm & Haas chemical plant, had finished work at midnight and then gone to the social club house of the company where employees of the firm find relaxation. Miss Jones left the hospital yesterday morning.

She said there were "several pieces of music" when questioned if there was an orchestra to furnish music for the dancing which she had previously stated was the attraction at the club house.

Miss Jones suffered abrasions of the left leg above the knee. She spoke calmly but of course was somewhat nervous after passing through such an experience.

"We were walking along the road in couples," she said. When a car hit us, Claire was tossed over the fence and I was thrown to the road as were the two fellows. "I spoke to one of the fellows but he did not answer and then a car came along."

Miss Jones was not at first informed of the two fatalities and although she had seen Miss Di Vincenzo removed from the ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad apparently did not sense the seriousness of her friend's condition.

When informed of the death of her co-workers Miss Jones was unnerfed but bore up bravely under the strain.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

American-Chinese Forces Advance

Kandy, Ceylon—A communique from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters reported today that American-Chinese forces penetrated into the southern part of Myitkyina, in northern Burma.

A Chungking radio report heard yesterday said Sino-American forces of Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell had reached the southern end of the Japanese stronghold of Myitkyina in an advance of 1,000 yards. Another group had stabbed toward the southeast section of the city.

Bombers Attack Four Bridges in France and Belgium

London—Strong forces of bombers of the Ninth U. S. Air Force today attacked four bridges in northern France and Belgium, including one crossing the Meuse at Liege Val Benoit, and an airfield at Archet, north of Paris. The German radio claimed 60 American planes, including 55 four-engined bombers, had been shot down in fierce fighting over the Reich, and Nazi radio warnings indicated another possible attack on Berlin.

American Troops Within Mile of Valmontone

Naples—American troops lunged forward today to within almost a mile of Valmontone, key defense bastion on the German-held Rome line, after the Allied Fifth Army virtually annihilated three Nazi divisions of possibly 45,000 troops.

In a desperate attempt to save his forces facing Eighth Army troops to the southeast from encirclement, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring threw in additional reserves.

Radio France at Algiers said it had been officially announced that British troops had occupied Aprilia, also known as Carroceto. Aprilia is a rail junction on the line from Anzio to Rome, about 12 miles northeast of Anzio. Another broadcast said that Allied forces cut the Anzio-Albano road two miles north of Aprilia and thus reached a point only 15 miles from Rome.

American and British troops of the Fifth Army scored substantial advances southwest of Velletri, Rome line strongpoint eight and a half miles southwest of Valmontone.

All Four Were Returning from Rohm & Haas Social Club After Completing Work on Shift at Midnight at Chemical Plant Here — Man Injured is Treated at Wagner Hospital.

A young woman and a man were killed early yesterday morning in the first fatal accident in Bucks County in 1944. Another man and a woman were injured. Those fatally hurt were both residents of Bristol and all four were employees of Rohm & Haas Company. The car which struck the four pedestrians was driven by a Bristol man.

The dead: Claire Di Vincenzo, 19, 210 Cedar street; Alphonso Walukas, 23, 534 Bath street. Home address, 719 Wood Court, South Fork, Pa.

Edward Markusic, 19, 430 Radcliffe street. Treated at the Wagner Hospital for abrasions of the head, arms and legs. He left the hospital yesterday.

The four were walking along the roadway which leads to the approach of the Burlington-Bristol bridge. They were walking in the direction of the Bristol highway or Route 13 when struck by a car driven by Bruno R. Nonini, 341 Jefferson avenue.

Nonini told police that he did not see the four until only a few feet away. Another car, he said, was approaching him and he had his attention centered on it, and just as it passed, the four pedestrians loomed up in front of him.

All four were employed at Rohm & Haas and had been working on the four to 12 o'clock (midnight) shift. After finishing their work they went to the Rohm & Haas Social Club located on the road where the accident occurred. They left the dance which was held at the club house at about one o'clock and walked in the direction of the Route 13.

Miss Di Vincenzo was accompanied by Markusic, while Miss Jones was walking with Walukas. Both couples were walking with traffic and were struck from the rear, one of each couple being instantly killed, both walking on the left of their companion.

Miss Di Vincenzo sustained a compound fracture of the skull, and fracture of the upper right arm. She was taken to the Harriman Hospital in the ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Walukas had a compound fracture of the skull, both legs were broken, left arm broken and neck broken. He and Markusic were taken to the Wagner Hospital by Allen Barr, Wilson avenue. Barr was accompanied by Vanuxem Morris.

Miss Jones was taken to the Harriman Hospital in the Bristol police car by Sergeant Perry and Officers Bartle and Della.

Nonini was driving without a license, his having been suspended or revoked three years ago.

Pvt. Jesse Bartle, Garden street, and Miss Kathryn Crudo, Penn and Cedar streets, were riding with Nonini. Bartle suffered abrasions of the right hand. They were en route from Burlington.

Nonini was driving a Ford coupe.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

★★★★★★★★★★★★

AN AIR FORCE SERVICE COMMAND STATION, "Somewhere in England," May 29—Lt. Frank C. Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Yoder, of Poughansing avenue, Andalusia, Pa., is now overseas and has participated in a course designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and soldiering in an active Theater of War.

At one of the Air Service Command stations known as Control Depots, Lt. Yoder was carefully processed by classification experts who made certain that he was well-fitted for the job assigned to him. Security training, personal hygiene, a talk by a Special Service Officer informing him of facilities for healthful recreation, and a lecture by the Chaplain are all in turn part of the G. I.'s preparation for his overseas duty.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes take off to smash the Nazi war machine.

Before entering the Army, he was employed as a wood worker by the N. K. Freas Sons.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day is a day of memories and from those memories America draws strength for the hard tasks of war. America is not essentially a remembering nation, coddling the past, but it does have an abiding gratitude for those who, in national crises of the past, offered everything to their country, not counting cost.

That gratitude is a guarantee of citizen morale today and evidence of the capacity of each generation to subordinate personal considerations to the welfare of the group.

How splendidly America has responded to every crisis. In the two wars with Britain America was on the defensive, hanging with resolution to a slender thread of hope which finally materialized triumphantly. The war with Mexico was an offensive masterpiece and proved the young nation's rising power.

The Civil War plunged every section into a fiery crucible from which it emerged chastened and fortified. The few blows required to subdue effete Spain established America as a world power and the First World War ratified that ranking emphatically, with young Americans conceding the top-notch combatants of them all.

With every call to arms America answers enthusiastically and performs courageously and effectively. And as the past holds mighty deeds of America and its individual citizens, so the present is producing feats of equal valor to treasure as stones in the temple of victory that is being reared.

NO MERGER NOW

At the conclusion of one of the hearings on creating a single department of defense. Representative Woodrum of Virginia gave welcome assurance that the project to merge the Army and Navy will not be recommended during the war.

Said Representative Woodrum: "There is not and never has been any idea on the part of the committee to recommend any change or reorganization now in the middle of the war that would interfere with the work of the armed services."

The House committee on post-war military policy is, of course, not a legislative committee, but there are those, both in and out of Congress, who would push an immediate merger of the armed services without due regard for the deteriorating effect on the war effort. It is well that this effort should be squelched.

Now is not the time to attempt a merger of the two services, even if there were substantial agreement between them, which is far from the case. There are impressive arguments on both sides which deserve mature consideration and possible future action. There is nothing urgent about the matter now except the desire of the War Department, to see the merger accomplished while that department is at an absolute peak of its strength.

When the war is ended the Navy, with its two-ocean fleet, will again be the nation's first line of defense, which is one of the principal reasons for naval opposition to a merger now.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Mar. 22, 1883. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The report of the condition of the Farmers National Bank at the close of business on the 15th inst., shows loans and discounts, $263,770.25; U. S. bonds, $170,657.02, due from approved reserve agents, and other national banks and bankers, $93,921.75; individual deposits, $325,441.09; and due banks and bankers, $36,021.47.

About 106 workmen on the railroad, Irishmen and Italians, struck for $1.50 per day, on Tuesday. They were paid off yesterday morning.

The Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company ask that $2,500 worth of business in two years after the opening of an office here will be guaranteed them. Nearly this amount has been subscribed. The firms that have responded by subscriptions of $100 and over are D. Landreth & Sons, Rogers Brothers, Grundy Brothers & Campion, Joshua Peirce & Co., Wilson & Fenimore, Swain Brothers and H. Mortwitz. The towns now connected by the wires of this company are Philadelphia, Camden, Atlantic City, Trenton, Bordentown, Chester, Media, Wilmington, Woodbury and Gloucester. In Philadelphia there are about 4,000 business houses connected by this company.

The Philadelphia Conference in session at Lancaster has adjourned. The appointments in this vicinity are as follows: Bristol, Rev. H. E. Gilroy; Nesaminy and Bensalem, Rev. F. A. Gilbert; Emilie and Fallsington, Rev. M. H. Sisty; Langhorne and Scottsville, Rev. F. B. Harvey; Newtown, Rev. G. W. North; Tullytown, Rev. E. B. Callen.

The Rogers Brothers received a verdict of $10,970 in their favor in the trial last week against the railroad company. One other suit was settled by the payment of $1,200, making a total of $11,270 awarded them for the land taken.

girls of the lower grades were attired in white with shirred pink satin bands on their heads. The girls of the next higher grades wore large pink and blue rosettes in their hair, and the larger girls wore bands with two large bows, pink or blue in color. Then came the boys of the graduating class wearing white trousers, dark coats, and red carnation buttonholes. They were attended by two small boys as pages, attired in white suits, red bow ties and red socks, and carrying nosegays of red snapdragons and baby breath. Then in single file were the girl graduates, wearing white embroidered marquisette gowns. On their heads rested halos of white net, with small rosebuds. Seven in number, they carried bouquets of snapdragons and baby breath. The maid of honor, Geraldine Bandyke, was crowned as the other graduates, wearing a net veil and attended by four small girls. She carried the Queen's crown on a satin pillow. The small attendants wore dresses of white net, made on shepherdess lines with pink or blue foundations. Each carried a nosegay. Following was the May Queen, Joanna Knight, robed with a cloak of blue tulle, and carrying a sheaf of white snapdragons from which hung a shower of pale blue and white streamers. She was also attended by four tots, each like those attending the maid of honor. The altar boys preceded the Rev. Fr. Diamond, pastor of the church, carrying the Monstrance.

As the procession entered the church, strains of the hymn, "On this day O Beautiful Mother," resounded. Once seated "Hail Queen of Heaven" was sung. The girl graduates filed singly down the main aisle and proceeded to the chancel railing where a recitation dedicated to the Blessed Mother was given. The Queen presented the crown to the Rev. Diamond, who in turn laid it at the feet of the Statue which was surrounded with palms and flowers. Each girl placed her nosegay at the chancel railing during which time the children sang "Hail, Mother Dear." The boys and their attendants then proceeded to the railing where "O Eucharistic King" was recited. Each boy placed his nosegay in the huge "V" at the foot of the main altar, "O Sacred Heart Forever Close" was then sung.

For his text the Rev. Fr. Diamond chose the words from "Hear, Sweet Mother, Hear the Weary." He dwelt upon the early life of the Infant Jesus, who as part of the Holy Family of Nazareth, assisted His mother and St. Joseph in the of men, and when completed will be a substantial structure.

At an election held yesterday evening, the following officers of Hopkins Lodge, I. O. O. F., were chosen: N. G. Harvey, Ruler; V. G. Christopher, Hetherington; secretary, William H. Duffy; financial secretary, Clarence N. Peirce; trustee, S. W. Groff.

On Tuesday evening last, Mr. George Londerbough was the recipient of a handsome cook stove from the Y. M. C. A. of the Methodist Church, of which he is a member. Mr. Londerbough responded by giving them a supper at his residence on Bath street. The Ladies' Alliance also were invited and a very merry time was spent.

duties of their humble home. If more homes were likened unto this one, we would have no wars, for without peace in the home there can be no peace anywhere," stated the clergyman. He asked that "Today, as a special favor pray for those who were instrumental in steeping the world in war, that they may see the error of their ways. Pray for restoration of peace to our hearts and our homes."

The Litanyes to St. Theresa and the Child Jesus of Prague were followed by benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Those marching from Bristol to the Bristol Cemetery formed at Otter and Locust streets. The Third Ward Memorial Plaque Committee raised a new flag at the plaque site, it being drawn to the top of the staff by Richard W. McGinley, U. S. Navy, and home on furlough, assisted by Donald Manning, Wisconsin, who was the guest of McGinley.

Following the flag raising the procession wended its way to the cemetery, where a considerable number of people had gathered to witness the exercises.

Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., past commander of the Bracken Post, and also of the Legion's Ninth Pennsylvania District, presided, and the ritualistic service of the Legion was given by Fred W. Bryner, post commander.

The Rev. Father McCurd, Holy Ghost Academy, Cornwells Heights, spoke briefly preceding offering prayer. Rev. McCurd, addressing the audience, told that we not only have a fight to win abroad but also have to win one at home. He said that not until we have "a love of God and love of our fellow man" will wars be obliterated from the world.

"It is for us here at home to determine if we are doing all that is possible to aid those who are fighting on the field of battle," said Past Commander Saidt in his address.

He asked, "Are we buying all the bonds that we can?" He said: "We of the American Legion have been disturbed by the fact that many of the working people who are buying bonds, and particularly those in the defense plants, are not holding them but cashing them in."

"This is like giving our boys over there a rifle in their hands and then snatching it away from them when they need it most."

"Are we giving our blood to the Red Cross blood bank so that it will aid those in combat who need it?"

"When they return, will we be able to look them straight in the eye and say I did all that I could?"

The speaker blamed the pacifists at the end of World War I for America discharging her soldiers and sailors; dismantling the forts; sinking the battleships and placing trust in treaties.

He cautioned that we must now be on our guard against theorists and that we must be prepared to keep the peace and he advocated a modified form of military training.

Concluding his address, the past commander said: "We must do everything in our power to work and finance this war and we must donate our blood to the Red Cross."

"We must prepare the way so that those who are fighting this war will suffer the least possible penalties for their sacrifices."

"We must do all that is necessary and pay all that is necessary for national security."

"We must work with other high-minded nations for peace, and war must be banished for ever."

Red Cross Group Will Work Tomorrow

for this Red Cross work as the Southeastern Chapter, of which Bristol is a branch, has been asked to double its quota. The request is now for 700,000 dressings each month. To do this share Bristol must make at least 2,000 each week.

There is now on hand more than enough material to assure this output. All that is needed is sufficient number of workers, new ones, to help the older "regulars," who have faithfully been carrying on the work since the unit was organized three years ago this June.

They have the satisfaction of knowing that today, on the fighting fronts in Italy, the surgical dressings which they have made are being used for the wounded. Word of appreciation for their use there has been received by the Southeastern Chapter of Red Cross. Every mother, wife, sweetheart or sister of every fighting man must feel a certain satisfaction from this knowledge—that surgical aids made by women right here in Bristol are this very day aiding wounded fighting men in Italy. Surely relatives will welcome an opportunity to help in such a direct and tangible way.

The Community House on Dorchester street is open every Tuesday and Wednesday from 10 a. m. to four p. m. Workers may take sandwiches, and tea or cold drinks are served. The unit also works on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30. Everyone over the age of 16 will be welcomed. White uniforms are not essential for the work. Simple, light, wash dresses will suffice. Mrs. Franklin Wallin, Chairman of Surgical Dressings, and Mrs. Sidney Longbottom, co-chairman, are always present to welcome and help newcomers.

The unit plans to work on D Day whenever that day may be and on Decoration Day tomorrow, as well. "Let us dedicate this Decoration day to doing something for D Day," comments one member of the group. "We can't think of a better way of spending Memorial Day," says Mrs. Franklin Wallin.

Not can we. What better way to honor the memory of those who have given their lives for our country. What better way to help those who may on this very Memorial Day be in need of surgical aids!

Markusic who was treated at the Wagner hospital, was interviewed today at his residence here. Markusic had his head swathed in bandages and is still nervous from the ordeal through which he passed. He related how the four left the Rohm and Haas club house to return to Bristol. He said they were walking along the road when the car struck them from the rear. He could not state whether Miss Di Vincenzo was thrown over the guard rail or not. He was walking with Miss Di Vincenzo he said and was walking on the young woman's right. "The couple ahead were walking just the reverse," he said.

"We all met at the club house." Three of the four worked in one department.

Miss Di Vincenzo was the daughter of Charles C. and Lillian C. Di Vincenzo. She was a member of the Zion Lutheran Church, and graduated from the Bristol high school last June. She attended the Rider College at Trenton for three months.

In addition to the parents, one sister, Julia, who is a Navy Cadet Nurse, and will graduate in September; and one brother, Robert, survive.

labor czar by stirring up class hatreds and using the emotions of the working man to gain an ulterior goal.

"Mr. Lawrence shows an alarming tendency to echo this dangerous philosophy. Fortunately, on the basis of his record in public office, I do not believe many Pennsylvanians will be deluded by his off-key ranting."

"I believe the working man has every right to political independence and economic security. I am convinced that he can attain neither so long as he allows himself to be used as a spring board by a raucous, self-seeking labor band dominated by Hillman and his power-drunk satellites."

"Regimented thinking of the kind prescribed by Sidney Hillman and others pledged to the Fourth Term dream is nothing but a cankerous growth on the fine skin of labor's inherent rights. If allowed to persist, the working man will discover too late that Hillman's overweening ambition is to establish himself as the supreme ruler of all labor under a government which will tell the working man when he can work, how much he will be paid, where he can live, how and where his children shall be educated, what he can buy and what he can't buy and in general, direct his life under the regimented formula of the very dictatorships we are fighting to exterminate."

"If that happens, the American worker need never again concern himself about his right to vote. That, and all the other liberties guaranteed us by the fathers of the American Constitution, will be a dead letter. The American way of life will have been obliterated by our own blind, stupid indifference."

which was considerably damaged. The right front fender was smashed at the headlight. The glass on the right half of the windshield was knocked completely out, and the top of the car just above the windshield was dented as if one of the bodies had been thrown up against it. The glass in the left half of the windshield was splintered, as was the glass in the right door.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of roadway between the barn on the Rohm and Haas farm and the Rohm and Haas club house, between 1.15 and 1.30. Bristol police were called to the scene by the guards at the Burlington-Bristol bridge.

Coroner of Bucks County J. Alfred Rigby was summoned, and the body of Walukas was removed to the morgue of Robert C. Riehl, while the body of Miss Di Vincenzo was taken to the morgue of Galzerano.

Walukas resided with William E. Downing and family at 534 Bath street. He came to Bristol to work for the Rohm and Haas Company about nine months ago.

Nonini was released in $2500 bail to await the action of the Coroner, by Justice of Peace Horace A. Cooper, at Langhorne.

State Police investigating the accident were Privates Boiwka and Forstner.

Mexican Luncheon Much Enjoyed by Club Women

CHALFONT, May 29—The Chalfont Community Club ended its season with a Mexican luncheon a few days ago with covers placed for 35.

The meeting was in charge of the retiring president, Mrs. Howard A. Clymer.

The business session was followed by the exhibit of Mexican articles and an interesting talk about Mexico by Miss Ethel Beadles, home economics director in Montgomery county, who made a trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Howard Inches, who was unable to attend, sent a number of pictures, books, jewelry, baskets and curios her husband had collected while in Acapulco, Mexico. Mrs. Walter exhibited books and bags from Panama, where her daughter resides.

Miss Beadles showed a number of attractively colored slides to illustrate her talk, and explained her main purpose in making the trip to Mexico was to study the people at their arts and crafts.

O God, our Father, in deep humility we pray with sincere gratitude for those who have laid down their lives for the preservation of human liberties, for the right to life and liberty, for the privilege of free thinking and conscientious worship of the God Who has been revealed to us. May we cherish the blessings which have been purchased for us by the expenditure of human blood, and may we consecrate ourselves to the preservation of these blessings under the leadership of Thy Spirit and the guidance of Thy hand. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROHM & HAAS MEETS FLEETWINGS TONIGHT

Rohm and Haas and Fleetwings will clash tonight in a Trenton Industrial League game on the Maple Beach field at 6:15 o'clock.

It will be the local fans' first opportunity to see Jesse Croasdale, new Rohm and Haas pitcher, in action. Last week against the league-leading Prison Officers, Croasdale pitched a no-run game but was beaten 1-0.

Either Lonny Heisler or Mike De Risi will pitch for the Wings. The Wings are in third place in the league standing with Rohm and Haas having lost five straight games.

TO PLAY POSTPONED GAME

The Voltz-Texaco-Diamond game which was postponed last Thursday night will be played Wednesday night on the Edgely diamond. Game will begin at 6:30 o'clock.

SILES VICTORS

SILES, May 29—Siles A. C. finally broke into the win column of the Bristol Youth League, triumphing over the Bristol Township nine, 5-4, here yesterday afternoon.

Wilson Graves won the game for Siles when he clouted a home run in the third with one on base and then came through with a triple in the eighth with a runner on base. Bristol Township had deadlocked the score by counting three times in the fifth.

1st Lt. Joseph Snyder Wounded in Action

tered the armed forces the figure "23" has played a big part in his activities. On January 23, 1940, he enlisted in the army; on February 23, 1940, left for Panama; on February 23, 1942, graduated following a course at Fort Benning, Ga., and received his commission as a second lieutenant; on January 23, 1944, left the United States for service overseas; and on the 23rd of last month he was wounded. It was then he was sent to the 23rd General Hospital in Italy, where he is recovering nicely, and has been able to write his parents to tell of his progress. Yesterday the War Department informed the Snyders that their son is improving.

The 25-year-old infantry officer, who is single, trained at Fort Benning, Ga., and at a base in Arizona, receiving his commission as a first lieutenant at the latter place. He was in Panama for 1½ years. Following his graduation from Bristol high school he was employed for a time by Manhattan Soap Co., here.

Two Services Are Held at Hulmeville

gift of the Patriotic Mothers Club of Parkland in honor of the men in the service.

The program was inclusive of: Processional hymn, "America the Beautiful"; pledge of Allegiance to the flag, lead by Soby Post Commander William A. Thomas; the national anthem; 15th Psalm; Scripture lesson, the Rev. Mr. Gay; anthem "Recessional" (Kipling) combined choirs; bidding prayer, with congregational responses, the Rev. Mr. Eastburn; hymn "O Valiant Hearts"; prayer, the Rev. Mr. Gay; sermon based on St. John 14:16, the Rev. Mr. Eastburn; offertory "O Joyful Light," selection "American Hymn" (Keller), Harmony Trumpeters; reading of names of departed comrades, Commander Thomas; sounding of taps; memorial service; recessional hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal."

Following the serving of luncheon by the Auxiliary to Post members, cadets and Blue Star Mothers in the parish room of Grace Episcopal Church, a parade group marched from the intersection of Main street and Reetz avenue to Beechwood Cemetery. In line were: Cadet drum and bugle corps, Soby Post, Auxiliary, Blue Star Mothers, Girl Scouts, school children, and others. A memorial service was held at the grave of Jesse W. Soby who lost his life in World War I. At the center of the cemetery the following program was then presented: Prayer, the Rev. Mr. Eastburn; address, the Rev. Mr. Gay; presentation of American Legion medals to two outstanding students of the eighth grade of Hulmeville-Middletown public school. The medals presented by George Thorpe, past commander of Soby Post, were given to Phyllis VanVossen and Ferd. Reetz, Jr.

The address by the Rev. Mr. Gay was based on the following Bible verse: "Take off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." In stating that the boys in service are fighting for principles and ideals which have been instilled in them in this free country, he reminded that there is more to life than that which meets the eye. "There is the eternal," he added.

Refreshments were served the children by the Parent-Teacher Association in the school house following the exercises.
